PROFILE OF THE POSITION

The U.S. Agency for International Development, USAID, is seeking an individual for the position of Human Resources Specialist in the Executive Office - EXO.

BASIC FUNCTION OF POSITION

Under the general supervision of the Supervisory Executive Officer, the incumbent independently performs a wide range of human resources (HR) duties and personnel-related administrative functions for USAID/Colombia. He/she is USAID/Colombia's HR specialist for a staff of more than 100 locally engaged and off-shore Personal Services Contract (PSC) and US Direct Hire (USDH) employees. Personal Services Contract employees include Foreign Service National (FSN/PSC), American (USPSC) and third country (TCNPSC) staff. He/she also serves as USAID's principal liaison with the Embassy's HR (HRO) office on all FSN personnel matters. Duties include, but are not limited to recruitment and contracting of local and international staff, evaluation and classification of local positions and US/TCN/PSC positions up to the Post's authority level, training and employee development, ethics and conduct, orientation, personnel processing for arriving/departing staff, disciplinary actions, award program oversight, personnel records maintenance, and recurring and non-recurring reporting. The incumbent also supervises one Human Resources Assistant, one Human Resources/Procurement Assistant and one Rover Secretary, and acts as a back-up in their absence.

MAJOR DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

As an employee of USAID employee, the incumbent is responsible for understanding and incorporating into his/her work the Agency's core values. These core values are: 1. Passion for Mission, 2) Excellence, 3) Integrity, 4) Respect, 5 Empowerment, 6) Inclusion, and 7) Commitment to Learning.

a. Recruitment Processes, Contracting and Employment Management

The incumbent is in charge of recruitment and appointment of all local and international PSC employees. This includes preparing advertisements and job announcements for advertising, pre-selecting candidate resumes, administering tests, coordinating the selection process with selection committees, and serving as the HR representative on those committees. In addition, he/she is in charge of negotiating and preparing contracts for U.S. off-shore and local hire, TCN and FSN PSCs for the Executive Officer's signature; preparing budgets and other documentation pertaining to employment contracts. The incumbent is responsible for managing annual performance evaluations for all PSC staff. He/she prepares contract modifications based on reassignments, extensions, resignations, updated position descriptions, promotions, and separations. As the Agency's advisor on HR issues, he/she counsels potential and newly-recruited staff on USAID/Colombia job opportunities, hiring practices and operating procedures (work hours, benefits, etc.), and explains Agency goals. He/she also instructs U.S. supervisors and current staff on local labor practices and procedures; initiates security clearance procedures for all new employees, (in coordination with the Regional Security Office and USAID/Washington Office of Security), and processes enrollments in the Health and Accident coverage (HAC).

b. Position Classification

The incumbent is in charge of processing the documentation required for classifying the pay grades for all FSN/PSC and eligible family member (EFM) positions at USAID/Colombia. The position classification process (called MClass) entails coordination with the regional classification office in Lima, Peru, as well as with USAID in Washington. He/she also, works with the Supervisory Executive Office in classifying local and off-shore USPSC and TCNPSC positions. This role entails interaction with supervisors in accurately preparing the position descriptions; evaluating classification requests, and making recommendations on the appropriate course of action. In addition, the incumbent prepares and conducts interviews with supervisors and employees in order to gain an in-depth understanding of the job before MClass packages are sent to Lima for further classification. He/she also recommends the titles to be given position being classified. In accomplishing the foregoing, the incumbent must gain a thorough understanding of the position classification system, becoming proficient in MClass policy and procedures. This task is both highly sensitive and entails a great deal of professional judgment. Negative decisions following recommendations by the incumbent must not only be well grounded but also explained to the originating offices and concerned individuals with tact, in order to avoid morale problems. The incumbent also advises employees and supervisors on the results of classification actions and the appeals procedures, and is the first point of contact to respond to questions regarding the duties of the position.

c. Local Employee Pay and Benefit Management

The incumbent is USAID's liaison with the Embassy's HRO and is also the resource person responsible for providing leadership, advice and professional guidance on all matters related to local employees and local practices, including matters related to the local compensation plan, payroll, wages, compensation and benefits, health and life insurance, leave policy, and retirement and severance pay entitlements. In addition, he/she advises and counsels employees on matters such as performance evaluation, employee relations, salary increases, position descriptions, evaluations, training, incentive awards program, environmental and working conditions, reduction-in-force, separation, ethics/conduct, discipline and grievance procedures, and other HR management issues. The incumbent also stays abreast of new and changing policies and regulations.

d. USDH and US/TCNPSC Personnel Responsibilities

The incumbent advises and provides technical guidance to USPSC and TCNPSC staff on salary, benefits and entitlements under their contracts, as well as other HR policies procedures applicable to them, such as employee evaluations and step increases. The incumbent monitors and tracks the evaluation process for USPSCs and TCNs, ensuring consistency between the ratings and supporting narratives. The HR Specialist is in charge of arrival and departure processing for all U.S. employees, including arrival and departure cables, official personnel actions and diplomatic accreditation, work visas, identification cards, and drivers' licenses. He/she maintains official personnel and contract files and prepares PSC documents, modifications and budgets for USPSCs and TCN PSCs.

e. HR Administrative Management Responsibilities

Processes documentation related to evaluations, promotions, step increases, contract modifications, and position reclassification for all FSN/US/TCN PSC employees. As appropriate, prepares and updates contract budgets for all FSN, TCN and US PSC employees. The incumbent also maintains accurate and up-to-date official files, handbooks and other reference/policy documentation, staffing patterns and workforce/staffing reports (including computer-based WEBPASS staffing data). He/she liaises with the regional bureau in Washington (LAC) and HR/Washington on all reporting that relates to staffing levels and personnel. The HR Specialist counsels staff on professional ethics, personnel hierarchy management and other issues of a professional or personal nature that could affect employment with USAID. As the Mission's training coordinator, the incumbent maintains training log/records, manages the annual training plan process and assists FSN, USPSC, and USDH employees in enrolling in training. Similarly, he/she serves as the principal liaison and coordinator between LAC/ HR/Washington and Mission employees for on-line training. As USAID's coordinator for the Joint Incentive Awards Program, he/she advises staff on the awards program, reviews and screens nominations to ensure eligibility, and serves as the primary liaison with Embassy HRO, which has overall responsibility for the awards program at the U.S. Embassy in Colombia. Similarly, he/she is the Mission's point person for the Agency's incentive awards program, which includes USAID-specific incentive awards and On-the Spot and Time-off awards. The HR Specialist is also responsible for developing, maintaining and delivering orientation programs for all newly arriving employees, and for assisting local staff with official documentation required for visa, loan and other applications. He/she also assists Institutional Contractors and Chiefs of Party with their accreditation requests, as well as issuance of Colombian identification cards and driver licenses.
